

This book contains a world of knowledge brought to us by Judaism and Sikhism. Although their origins are separated by centuries of time, their commonalities are remarkable. While advocating for the importance and power of prayer, these religions teach us that God is vast and unfathomable. As these two faiths have taught me that service to humanity is service to God, I offer this comparative study to you in hopes that you may move forward and do the same.

Dedicated to Almighty God
in gratitude for his best gift:
The gift of my lovely children
Rohan, Punit, Gunit & Pavit.

Table Of Contents

Preface and Dedication
Judaism, Prayer and Symbol	2
Judaism at a glance	5
Sikhism, Prayer and Symbol	19
Sikhism at a glance	22

Section 1 ONE CREATOR

God	39
God is One	41
God is Truth	43
God is The Creator	45
God is Gracious	47
God is Perfect	49

Section 2 REDEEM YOURSELF

Soul	53
Trust	55
Prayer	57
Miracle	59
Purpose of Life	61
Salvation & Sanctification	63
Self-Purification	65
Deed	67
Service to Humanity	69
Love & Friendship	71
Perfection & Discipline	73
Forgiveness, Compassion & Sharing	75
Humility	77
Faith	79
Business	81

Section 3 THE OPPOSING FORCES

Victory & Defeat	85
Female & Male	87
Marriage & Divorce	89
Life & Death	91
Heaven & Hell	93
Solace & Anguish	95
Praise & Criticism	97
Beauty & Ugliness	99
Light & Darkness	101
Wisdom & Foolishness	103
Joy & Sorrow	105
Greed & Contentment	107
Freedom & Slavery	109

Section 4 CAUTION

Bribery & Corruption	113
Cruelty	115
Hatred & Jealousy	117
Deceit	119
Vengeance	121
Sin	123
Adultery	125
Evil & Suffering	127
Falsehood	129
Violence	131
Lure of Lust	133
Anger is Demonic	135

Commonalities & Differences	137
--	-----

Preface

After I wrote the book, Power of Prayer & 10 World Religions, it was amazing to find tremendous similarities between Judaism and Sikhism.

The similarities between the world's oldest religion and the youngest religion prompted me to write this book.

It is also amazing to see that the followers of both religions have tremendous social, cultural and economic similarities.

Praying for the universal peace and understanding for the followers of all religions of the world.

Dr. Harsimran Singh

Acknowledgments

I am thankful to Gurdip Singh from Baramulla, Kashmir, India for his help in research of my writings on Sikhism.

I am also thankful to Russ Shulkes. His extreme knowledge of Judaism was a great help to me. It would have been very difficult for me to present my book in this form without his active, sincere and intellectual help. He has already earned three masters degrees and is now pursuing his Ph.D.